

WHEELHOUSE MAKES UP MIND NOT TO DIE

His Determination to Live Has Aided Doctors Great Deal in Their Treatment.

MEANT NO REFLECTION

Rev. J. Sidney Peters Declares His Remarks About Legislature Was Misunderstood.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
PETERSBURG, VA., July 22.—Richard Wheelhouse, the young man who was desperately wounded last Monday night in a pistol duel with his uncle, John Wheelhouse, who was killed, is getting on very well at the Petersburg Hospital, and now has a fair chance for recovery. When the operation was performed by Drs. W. P. Hoy, F. W. Hains and H. G. Leigh shortly after the duel, it was found that a bullet had made fourteen perforations of the intestines, and little hope was entertained that the young man could possibly survive, but he has shown remarkable nerve and determination to recover, and by skillful treatment has been brought to a much better condition. He was told that he would probably die, and an anti-mortem statement as to this trouble with his uncle was taken; but he expressed his intention to get well, and said to a friend yesterday that he would be at home by next Sunday. Wheelhouse is twenty-three years old, is married, and is a workman.

May Start Further Trouble.
Pastor Eli Tarr, of the Harrison Street Baptist Church, colored, who has been prohibited by an injunction from the Hastings Court from acting as pastor of the church during the present dissension in the congregation until further order of the court, preached yesterday at the Oak Street African Methodist Episcopal Church. A number of members of the Oak Street Church protested against his appearance in the pulpit, being opposed to the idea on the ground that their church might thus appear to take a side in the dissension at the Harrison Street Church. It is understood that trouble is brewing in the Oak Street Church congregation because of Tarr's appearance.

Respect for Legislature.
Rev. J. Sidney Peters, pastor of the High Street Methodist Church, made a statement at his church last night referring to his sermon Sunday night a week ago, in which he was reported to have made certain statements about the Virginia Legislature and the Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association. Mr. Peters stated that his language had been misunderstood, and that in his sermon of Sunday night he had intended to make such an interpretation of his remarks as would be in accordance with the law. Whatever the language may have been, he disclaimed any intention of reflecting on the Legislature, and would be quick to resent such a statement from another.

Death of Mr. Dabney.
Mr. Benjamin E. Dabney, a well-known Petersburg citizen and prominent member of the Masons and Knights Templars, died last night at Millboro, Bath county, Va. Mr. Dabney had been in ill health for some time, and went to Millboro a week ago with the hope that the milder climate would improve his condition. He was a member of Petersburg Lodge, No. 15, Royal Arch Chapter, Appomattox Commandery of Knights Templars, and was a member of all the local Masonic lodges. Dabney is survived by his wife and mother, one brother and several sisters. The funeral will take place in this city to-morrow.

S.S.S. REMOVES BLOOD HUMORS

When the blood becomes infected with unhealthy humors the effect is shown on the skin in the form of pimples, rashes, eruptions, or some other type of skin disease. These humors circulating in the blood, come in contact with the delicate tissues and fibres of the skin and produce irritation and inflammation, and often excessive itching and burning. Trying to cure skin troubles with external applications is treating the effect instead of the cause. Such treatment perhaps allays some of the itching and discomfort, but does not reach the blood where the real source of troubles lies. A thorough cleansing of the blood is the only cure for humors in the blood. S. S. S., a gentle acting, safe blood purifier, is the proper treatment. It goes down into the circulation and neutralizes the humors and removes them from the blood. S. S. S. supplies the blood with the fresh, healthy properties necessary to sustain the skin and keep it free from disease. S. S. S. cures Eczema, Tetter, Acne, Salt Rheum, pimples, boils, rashes, and all other skin affections and diseases, because it purifies the blood and removes the humors which are responsible for the trouble. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

ARREST WILL FARIS, CHARGING MURDER

Police Take This Step With View to Clearing Up Mystery of Watts's Death.

HAD QUARREL WITH WATTS

Admits This, But Denies Being in Any Way Responsible for His Death.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., July 22.—Will Faris, a young married man, was taken into custody last night at his home about a half-mile south of the pumping-station, charged with murder. The warrant issued Saturday afternoon by Magistrate Dunn upon information furnished by Emmett Harrier, of Hickory Hill, charges Faris with the murder of J. B. Watts.

Deputy Sheriff Thomas and Police-man Eubanks made the arrest, and found Faris asleep in his bed at home. He denied any participation in the incidents leading to Watts's injuries, and came quietly without the least show of resistance.

Faris has a wife and four little children. He stands six feet two and is thirty-three years old. He has been in the employ of the city on several occasions for short intervals, and at the time of his arrest was engaged in laying pipe on the new reservoir type line. His tremendous physique and strength made him an excellent hand at any heavy work, and on this account he is held in high regard by his fellow-workmen. Faris never had the reputation of being a quarrelsome man, as far as could be learned among the people of his neighborhood, who have known him since childhood.

Friends Say He's Innocent.
Faris's friends allege that his arrest is merely the outcome of family rows and a friction between neighbors in his immediate section; that an investigation will show a peculiar condition of affairs and further will completely exonerate him from any connection with the death of J. B. Watts.

The scene of the alleged murder is about one mile south of Fry's Spring, on the Southern Railway. The wife of Watts lives in a small stone building near the road, which runs parallel with the railroad and is on the Granger place.

Faris lives with his wife and family a mile from Hickory Hill, which is the next station on the Southern. He had a difficulty with Watts on the night the latter was killed, the blow which resulted in his death. Faris does not deny this, and it is understood told several persons on the day following that he struck Watts and drove him away from his (Faris's) house on Saturday night.

He said that Watts came to his house and knocked on the door, and wanted to make trouble with him. He told him to leave, and upon his failure to do so he slapped him over. Watts got to his feet and went away down the railroad track. This was the last he ever saw of the man, he learned to his room. He said he did not follow Watts to the bridge, as reported, but went to bed and remained there until the next day.

Captain Woods Takes Hand.
Captain Michael Woods has returned to the city, and this morning, in an interview, said that information of Watts's death did not reach him until nearly a week after it had occurred. In the meantime the body had been turned over to relatives from Earlysville, and been taken there for burial.

The Commonwealth's attorney had Mrs. Watts at his office and heard her statement. He was not convinced that there had been any play, but had been making an investigation since the affair was reported to him as presenting some ugly phases. The information was brought to his office by some of the most prominent men of the community, and he would see that the case was thoroughly investigated.

Faris will have a hearing before Magistrate Dunn to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, and in the meantime an endeavor is being made to locate one of the men who has disappeared from the pipe-laying force, and who is connected by rumor with the incidents leading to the alleged murder.

Run Over by Wagon.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
ALEXANDRIA, VA., July 22.—William C. Creen, three years of age, son of William J. Creen, is in a precarious condition as a result of being run down by a heavy delivery wagon Saturday evening last while playing in the street. A wheel of the vehicle passed over the little fellow's head, and he is suffering with concussion of the brain.

Peyton Gray, the driver, was arraigned in the Police Court to-day, and his case was continued, pending the outcome of the child's injuries.

WILLIAMSBURG, VA., July 22.—Rev. W. A. R. Goodwin, rector of Bruton Church, states that Mrs. Van Ness, of Boston, had donated $1,000 to the endowment fund of the parish. The rector also reports that a well-known Petersburg lady would donate $1,000 to the same fund.

Permission was granted by the vestry for the reinforcement of the remains of Edmund Pendleton, his two wives and child, in the north aisle of the church. The interment will not be made until in the fall.

A committee, composed of Dr. W. A. Montgomery and Dr. J. S. Wilson, was appointed to act with the rector in preparing for the reunion of the General Convention of the Episcopal Church in the United States, which will visit Bruton Church on October 5th next.

FINE CHIEF OF POLICE NEWKIRK

Confesses He Struck Reporter for Publishing Police Court Proceedings.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
BLUEFIELD, W. VA., July 22.—As a result of the assault on Gordon Biggs, a reporter of the Daily Leader, Chief of Police Newkirk appeared before Recorder Palmer in the Police Court this morning. The chief confessed to the assault and was fined $10, but said in court he would do the same thing again if a single name of any party convicted in the Police Court was again published or his own name mentioned in the paper. At the time advising the prosecution, conducted by Judge Williams, to get ready to issue some more warrants.

Mr. W. E. Ross, editor of the Daily Leader, a gentleman well known in Richmond legal circles, attended court for the paper. At the time advising the prosecution, conducted by Judge Williams, to get ready to issue some more warrants.

Ross took the matter calmly, replying that the Constitution of the United States and West Virginia guaranteed the freedom of the press, and that he would perfectly within his rights in attempting to publish the proceedings and names connected with any case coming before the court, and did not purpose being told by any one what should or should not be published in the Daily Leader.

Editor Ross, continuing to take notes, asked for the protection of the court, but was called to order by Recorder Palmer without being granted his request.

Later a warrant was issued and the chief was placed on trial before Justice Chambers, the hearing being adjourned until to-morrow morning. Biggs's wounds are not serious.

A meeting of the Board of Supervisors will be held to investigate further the charges made against Chief Newkirk.
